

rachel uffner

CULTURED

A still from Alla Farid's At the Time of the Ebb

Leaving the Echo Chamber, the name of the 2019 Sharjah Biennial, plays with its own title by taking the form of three distinct exhibitions dedicated to the event's three curators: Zoe Butt, Omar Kholeif and Claire Tancons. A collaborative effort stretched over an eclectic group of questions, the biennial brings together a roving group of artists that includes known American entities like Cory Arcangel and Ian Cheng as well as new names to learn, like Thamoatharampillai Shanaathanan and Anawana Haloba. Open through June, we recommend the trip. Head to culturedmag.com for our highlights. SHARJAHART.ORG

COURTESY OF THE ARTIST. PHOTO BY MOBY ROOBYAN

Arcmanoro Niles' Homesick for a home I never had (2018)

The New York City Ballet's artistic leanings shine this season thanks to several concurrent programs including MoMA's "Lincoln Kirstein's Modern," an exhibition dedicated to unpacking the influence of the city ballet founder on the art world and New York. One can imagine the late Kirstein smiling if introduced to NYCB's current Art Series, which are currently engaging British artist Shantell Martin and her eye-popping illustrations. Martin's site-specific installation for NYCB responds to the balcony floor of the Philip Johnson-designed building, serving as preamble to wonders once inside the theater. NYCBALLET.COM

Last winter, Rachel Uffner hosted her first show by Arcmanoro Niles and this March, the Washington D.C.-born artist returns with a provocative title: "My Heart is Like Paper: Let the Old Ways Die." A kind of poem, the show delves into the narrative mode through the artist's fiery figurative compositions.

RACHELUFFNERGALLERY.COM

Rachel Uffner Gallery
170 Suffolk Street
New York, NY 10002

+1 212 274 0064
info@racheluffnergallery.com
racheluffnergallery.com